GRAF ROARS TO LAKEHURST AN UNDISPUTED, PROUD
CHAMPION

WILL LEAVE FOR GERMANY ON SATURDAY WITH CAPT. ERNST
LEHMANN IN COMMAND

Naval Air Station, Lakehurst, N. J., Aug. 29.—The Graf Zeppelin roared into view here today at 6:52 A. M., eastern standard time, completing the first commercial circumnavigation of the world by air.

All man's records for globe circling since Magellan discovered the path around the sphere had fallen before her. The Graf returned a champion.

Just 21 days, 7 hours and 12 minutes had elapsed since the Graf left here at 11:40 P. M. EST., August 7 to prove that the oceanic airways of the world and the sky above broad continents would become the pathways of commerce.

When the Zeppelin finally came to earth, completing the historic cruise, 21 days, 7 hours and 32 minutes had been consumed for the whole journey. The Graf came in low from the northwest, circled the western end of the hangar and swung around to the other end of the field to be hauled down, made fast and walked into shelter preparatory to the return to Friedrichshafen scheduled for Sunday or Monday.

The Zeppelin dropped her ropes at 7:07 A. M. EST.

At 7:09 the Graf dumped water ballast drenching a score of the ground crew, and at 7:12 the craft touched the ground.

The nose dipped and then the tail. The Graf leveled off, having approached some 25 feet nearer the ground. Time and again the maneuver was repeated until at 100 feet the nose hawser shot through a nose port, the end spreading into a score of hand lines. Marines and sailors seized the ropes while other hawsers dropped them aft.

Thronged to press in upon the ship as it came to earth and as customs men started aboard, but state police and marines kept them back to permit maneuvering the ship into the hangar.

Lieut. Commander Charles E. Rosendahl, former commander of the navy's dirigible Los Angeles and Lieut. Jack Richardson, the Los Angeles navigator, both guests on the trip, were the first off the Zeppelin.

Fully 10,000 persons were assembled on the station to see the completion of the epochal flight. The momentous scene being enacted before them stilled the crowd. Awe and almost silent they gazed upon the last act of a typically modern drama. Fewer than 20 years ago the world was applauding the bravery of Louis Bleriot who had dared death in a rickety monoplane to fly across the English Channel.

Thousands of those assembled here today were old enough to have scoffed at the modest claims of Wilbur and Orville Wright that they had accomplished momentarily a flight at Kitty Hawk in a winged contraption powered with a weedy motor.

Astern of the Graf lies a 20,000-mile trail every inch of which made history. Immediately after she was settled in the hangar—which was home port today—repairs were started on the tail, which was ripped when the craft skidded over tension wires when the dirigible started from Los Angeles.

The power line scraped the dirigible about a yard from the hinge which connects the rudder and the lower section of the rudder itself was damaged. None of the damage was considered serious and the helpers at the air station expected to have the aircraft in shape within a half day.

The crowd showed more and more enthusiasm as the ground crew started dragging the big dirigible into its hangar and once it was settled in there, the enthusiasm bubbled over.

The spectators broke through the first line of marine guards and surged towards the dirigible from which the passengers were starting to alight.

Cheers roared over the big air field every time one of the around the world voyagers appeared at an open window or started down the steps from the gondola.

When Dr. Eckener appeared at the control room the crowd cheered a tribute to the daring carelessness the German skipper had shown.

Eckener appeared tired but enthusiastic. His first word was to deny rumors that he now would retire from active flying.

Eckener will not accompany his ship back to Friedrichshafen. Today he will go to Washington and thence to Akron, Ohio, to confer with Goodyear Zeppelin officials there.

He said his business in Akron had no bearing upon his project for a commercial lighter-than-air line across the Atlantic.

"The Graf Zeppelin probably will leave for Germany Saturday evening," he announced. "The ship will be in command of Captain Ernst Lehmann."

Washington, Aug. 29.—Dr. Hugo Eckener, commander of the Graf Zeppelin, arrived here at 2:07 P. M. today for his reception at the White House by President Hoover.

Eckener landed at the Anacostia naval air station.

50 MEN HUNT THREE MEN, TWO WOMEN AS SUSPECTS IN PEQUOT BANK HOLDUP

RICHARD BROPHY REPORTED MISSING IN NEW YORK CITY

Alexandria, Minn., Aug. 29.—(U.P.)—No concern was felt here today by the relatives of Richard Brophy, a native son, formerly second in command of the Byrd Antarctic expedition, reported missing in New York.

Mrs. Margaret McCord, Brophy's aunt, said she recently received instructions from her nephew to forward his mail to New Zealand, where she believed he was at the present time.

The aunt was at a loss, however, to explain the bundle of clothes said to belong to Brophy which recently were found in his New York hotel.

PORT OF HAIFA IS SCENE OF BLOODY BATTLE

VICTIMS ARE 11 ARAB MOSLEMS,
SIX JEWS AND TWO CHRISTIANS

LARGE REINFORCEMENTS OF
BRITISH TROOPS FROM MALTA
LANDED FROM CRUISER

Jerusalem, Aug. 29.—(U.P.)—Nineteen persons were killed in a new outbreak at the Port of Haifa, it was reported here today. Eleven of the victims were Arab Moslems, six were Jews and two were Christians.

Large reinforcements of British troops from Malta were landed from a cruiser and immediately were pressed into service. They restored order after a brief struggle with the rioters. Meanwhile fear of a general Moslem uprising in Syria, Trans-Jordan and hitherto undisturbed sections of Palestine was felt here today with the arrival of fresh British troops from Malta and elsewhere.

New Arab movements have been reported from Syria and other Moslem strongholds, adding to the general alarm felt here after the Arabs began their holy war upon the Jews of Palestine last Friday, a war which to date has taken a toll of more than 150 lives.

The fear of the threatened rising was all the greater since it is known that the Bedouins are utterly fearless and lawless, a race which is able to go foodless for a whole week and which makes no distinction between Christian and Jew.

New British forces continued to arrive at Jaffa and Haifa and the police of the cities of the interior were being gradually reinforced with marines and military detachments. It was hoped that if the threatened invasion from Trans-Jordan fails to materialize complete order would be restored in a few days.

On the whole, Jerusalem was quiet today. The police were in control of the situation and were reinforced with civilian volunteers.

Cairo, Aug. 29.—The president of the municipality of Haifa was killed during a pitched battle between Arab Moslems and Jews, with British troops trying for hours to quell the riot, it was reported here today. Savage Bedouin attacks on Jews were reported from Tiberias and Sablus, Palestine communities.

Washington, Aug. 29.—There is no danger to American lives and property in Syria, although there have been slight repercussions there to the Palestine outbreaks, Consul George L. Brandt, Beirut, reported to the state department today.

Walter Camp, Jr., to Marry
Ruth Elder Tomorrow

New York, Aug. 29.—(U.P.)—Walter Camp, Jr., son of the late Yale football coach, will marry Ruth Elder, trans-Atlantic flier, here tomorrow, it was announced. W. A. Harriman, broker and sportsman, will be best man at the wedding.

DAWES AND
ATHERTON CONFER WITH MacDONALD

London, Aug. 29.—(U.P.)—Charles G. Dawes, United States ambassador, and Ray Atherton, charge d'affaires, conferred with Premier J. Ramsay MacDonald at his office, No. 10 Downing street, at 1 p. m. today for an announced purpose.

Persons in authority agreed with Washington reports that an Anglo-American formula for further naval limitation may be effected shortly.

LADY MARY HEATH IS INJURED WHEN PLANE CRASHES

PLANE STRIKES ROOF OF BUILD-ING EAST OF CLEVELAND
NEAR NOON HOUR

SHE IS SERIOUSLY INJURED,
ALSO HURT

Cleveland, Aug. 29.—(U.P.)—Lady Mary Heath was injured today when the plane she was flying crashed into the roof of a building east of Cleveland.

A mechanic with her also was hurt. His name was not learned in first reports. Lady Heath was at the controls.

Lady Heath was taken to the emergency hospital, where it was said her injuries were serious.

At the emergency hospital it was found that the crash had rendered Lady Heath unconscious and that both of her legs were severely cut. There were deep lacerations on her chest. She was taken immediately to the X-ray room for further observation.

She had been up three times in the Great Lakes plane in which she crashed. As she banked vertically over a factory building, just as she had done safely many times in her racing, the plane went out of control and dashed through the roof of a building.

She was flying at an altitude of 60 feet. The plane was imbedded in the roof and it was with the greatest difficulty that Lady Heath was extricated from the cockpit. Kirk, the mechanic, was able to walk away after the crash.

Seventy-five workmen at the factory which the building housed rushed to the rescue when the plane came crashing down through the roof over their heads.

She was to have used the plane in a landing contest at the air races today and was testing it out when the accident occurred.

Physicians late this afternoon said Lady Heath was in "a very serious condition." Her skull was fractured in several places, they said.

CHICAGO MAN KILLS HIMSELF ON STREET CORNER

WILLIAM GOLONWSKI, 50, SERI-OUSLY WOUNDS MRS.
ANNA KAISCH

INFATUATED AND CRAZED MAN
THEN TURNS GUN UPON HIMSELF

Minneapolis, Aug. 29.—(U.P.)—William Golonowski, 50, of Chicago, shot and killed himself on a street corner here today after he had seriously wounded Mrs. Anna Kaisch, 44, Minneapolis, with whom police said he was infatuated.

Mrs. Kaisch, estranged from her husband, and Golonowski were on their way to a street car when the Chicago man, angered by her refusal to elope with him, drew a gun, fired three shots into the woman's body, ran a block down the street and shot himself in the head. He died instantly.

Police were informed Golonowski often came here from Chicago to visit Mrs. Kaisch.

Mrs. Kaisch, who also was known by the name of Tubula, was taken to general hospital where attendants declared she was expected to recover.

Golonowski's body was taken to the county morgue awaiting instructions from Chicago.

WINS SECOND DIVORCE FROM HER HUSBAND

Chicago, Aug. 29.—(U.P.)—Mrs. Margaret Ryerson, 65, a great-grandmother was irked by the bonds of marriage so she appealed to the court and won a second divorce from her husband, Stonewall Jackson Ryerson on the grounds of desertion.

"I've had enough of marriage," Mrs. Ryerson told the court. "I have four children, six grand-children and two great-grand-children and I feel I've done my duty to the world. I'm an independent woman and don't care to be bound."

She married Ryerson first in 1882, divorcing him 36 years later when he deserted her. In 1922 she consented to remarriage and "eloped" but six years ago, she said, Ryerson left her again and since that date she has not heard from him.

Party Seen Leaving Town at Time of Robbery; Resorts, Cottages and Farm Houses Are Being Searched

Posse Looks for Party at the Park Rapids Fair; Customers Pass Bandits as They Are Leaving the Bank

Fifty men, armed with sawed-off their determination, were divided into shotguns, rifles, revolvers, grim in two posses today, one in the Crow Wing county lake area the other in the vicinity of Backus and Park Rapids, to hunt down the three bandits who executed the daylight holdup of the Farmers State Bank of Pequot yesterday and escaped with more than $9,000 in loot.

The Crow Wing county posse was headed by Sheriff Claus A. Theorin, Charles D. Brown, head of the Protective Department of the Minnesota Bankers' Association, and County Attorney Arthur J. Sullivan. The men, using cars and walking where necessary, are conducting a systematic search of resorts, lake cottages and farm houses to search out the possible hiding place of the bandits.

Working on the theory that the three holdup men had planned their escape by way of Backus and Park Rapids, another posse headed by Sheriff L. C. Morlier continues the search in that area. Armed men are mingling with crowds at the Park Rapids fair in the belief that the men sought the more populated area as a screen.

Look For Five People

Authorities are particularly searching for a party of five people, three men and two women who had been seen in Pequot during the last few days. The party occupied a Hupmobile car with a winter enclosure. Checking their activities authorities are of the belief that they were in Pequot to "spot" the bank and substantiate this statement by the fact that merchants in the town have since reported goods stolen. The five are suspected of the petty thievery. The car was seen leaving the town about the time of the robbery.

Passed Bandits in Doorway

Valuable information as to the description of the bandits has been given authorities by F. E. Murray, assistant agent at the Pequot depot who stated that he passed the three bandits in the doorway of the bank as they were leaving.

Mr. Murray said he did not suspect the men at that time nor did he know that a holdup had taken place until he approached one of the tellers' cages and found silver scattered around the floor.

Murray said he then ran out the door in the hope of getting the license number of the car but by that time, he said, the car was out of sight.

Carry Money in Grain Sacks

Murray told how the three bandits carried grain sacks and that while he could hear a jingle as of money he paid no particular attention to it at the time.

He described two of the bandits as wearing overalls and the other wearing a brown suit.

Upon his return to the bank again Miss Irene Sorenson, bookkeeper, had returned from spreading the alarm at the Pequot Motor Co. and the five men imprisoned in the vault had been released.

A checkup today revealed that $7,997.53 in actual cash, $900 in Liberty bonds, and two diamond rings valued at several hundred dollars were stolen, the loot totalling more than $9,000.

Bandits Act Swiftly

The bandits worked fast. As one remained at the waiting car, two entered the bank. One poked a gun in the face of J. C. Nelson, president, seated at his desk in the front part of the bank. He forced Nelson to walk in front of him and as he did so the bandit jumped on Mr. Nelson's desk and brandished two guns in the air, commanding everyone to "stick 'em up and be quick about it." The bandit then forced Mr. Nelson, A. C. Larson, cashier, Miss Gladys Aas, assistant cashier, Mrs. Paul Hartwig and daughter Grace, customers, to lie face down on the floor. Larson laid down on his back and one of the bandits told him gruffly to turn over unless he wanted to get his. One of the bandits then entered the vault, scooped up all currency in sight, and placed the money in a pile on the floor. The other bandit entered the tellers' cages and grabbed all money in sight there. They overlooked $550 in currency in the vault and a tray containing silver in one of the cages. After the loot had been piled on the floor the bandits ordered the five to enter the vault. They then locked the door, and assisted by the third bandit who entered the bank at this time, scooped up the money from the floor, placed it in grain sacks and walked leisurely from the bank, passing Murray in the doorway.

Miss Irene Sorenson, bookkeeper, was in the posting department at the rear of the bank when she heard the bandits' command, "Stick 'em up."

She ran out the rear door, risking the gunmen's fire, and over to the Pequot Motor Co., where she told garage employees that a holdup was taking place. Despite the fact that people from the garage rushed to the bank immediately the bandits' car had left. In the meantime those in the vault had released themselves by means of a combination worked from the inside.

Officials of the bank estimated that the holdup was carried out in not more than three minutes.

A valuable lead was given Sheriff Claus Theorin last evening by Mrs. Perkham who operates a gasoline station at Nimrod, in Wadena county, 30 miles north of Staples.

Mrs. Perkham told Sheriff Theorin that three men riding in a blue Hupmobile sedan had stopped at the filling station at about 8:50 P. M. Tuesday. The men appeared nervous, she said. While two of the men remained in the car the other ordered nine gallons of gasoline which he put in a can and placed it in the rear seat. He then ordered seven gallons of gasoline for the tank.

"I remarked to the man that he was buying a lot of gasoline and he replied that they wanted to be sure they had enough," Mrs. Perkham told Sheriff Theorin.

After the men secured the gasoline they travelled south, came back in about 15 minutes and turned north, Mrs. Perkham said. She gave the ages of the men as about 35 years.

Sheriff Theorin has a deputy at Nimrod today questioning the lady further and also questioning people in nearby towns to determine the direction from which the car came.

Sheriff Theorin stated today that he has established the fact that the bandits turned south on Highway No. 19 and turned west on a side road about one and a half miles.

A farmer residing on the side road reported that each day for a few days previous to the holdup he saw a large blue car travel over the road at a high rate of speed.

Sheriff Theorin believes that the car contained the bandits and that they had already planned the robbery at that time and were travelling over the route they would take.

Authorities will be aided in identification of the bandits if arrested by finger prints taken in the bank.

FALLS IN LOVE WITH MAN ON POSTER, WEDS HIM

Brighton, England, Aug. 29.—(U.P.)—It is one thing to fall in love with a man in a poster and another to marry him.

But Miss Gladys Hewett, young typist of this city, is going to do that.

On her way to work every morning Miss Hewett used to feast her eyes on a cigarette advertisement poster bearing the picture of a handsome man with crisp, curly hair. She sighed and wished such men actually existed.

And then dawned the great idea. She wrote to the company displayed the poster and asked if the man's picture was made from real life and if so would they please forward the letter she enclosed to "that man."

The letter was duly forwarded, and the young man, a wireless operator in the Merchant Service and a brother of the Commercial Artist who had made the poster, answered it. They exchanged photographs. They met. They fell in love. Now they are engaged to be married.

Shouts 'Whoopee', Leaps to Death Off St. Paul Bridge

St. Paul, Aug. 29.—(U.P.)—An unidentified man, apparently intoxicated, balanced himself for a moment on the rail of the high bridge here today, shouted "whoopee, whoopee, whoopee," and leaped 190 feet to his death in the Mississippi river. The body was not at once recovered.

BOY HIT BY GOLF BALL DIES OF SKULL FRACTURE

Chicago, Aug. 29.—(U.P.)—John Dale Leach, 1-year-old caddy, died at Ingalls Memorial hospital from a skull fracture incurred when he was struck by a golf ball driven by a caddy at Calumet Country club a few hours before.

USES DUMMY AND COFFIN TO MAKE JAIL BREAK

Stockton, Calif., Aug. 29.—(U.P.)—With the aid of a dummy and a coffin, William "Toughy" Burke, 19, Folsom's youngest prisoner, was at liberty today after the most unique escape in the annals of the prison.

During a check-up Monday evening, Burke hid in a coffin in the prison morgue, after stationing his cellmate beside a dummy in his former concrete place of residence. The cellmate, William Clarke, was peering into the cell.

From Burke's fellow prisoners it was learned that the young man had waited until night in his coffin, and then swam to freedom via the prison sewage canal.

SENATE FARM BLOC IS IN AN ANGRY MOOD

IRRITATED BECAUSE FEDERAL FARM BOARD HAS NOT TAKEN CARE OF WHEAT FARMER

CLAIM BOARD HELPS THE FRUIT
FARMER BUT IGNORES THE WHEAT GROWER

By PAUL R. MALLON
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Washington, Aug. 29.—The senate farm bloc is assembling for the coming session in an irritated mood because of failure of President Hoover's federal farm board to take care of the wheat farmer.

Following announcement of Senator Brookhart, independent republican, of Iowa, he intended to ask hearings on nominations of board members, Senator Nye, republican, North Dakota, revealed today he is planning a full inquiry into the fitness of two board members whom he declined to name as yet.

"The plan of the farm bloc is to refer Mr. Hoover's board nominations to the agriculture committee when they are sent up from the White House on September 4 and then to call the nominees before the committee for examination."

"The board has helped the fruit farmer but has ignored the wheat farmer," said Nye. "The northwest was expecting some action because congress had provided sufficient funds, but thus far our people have received no help whatsoever and there seems to be no prospect of them getting any from this source in the immediate future. The present wheat situation could have been helped immeasurably if the board had functioned promptly. I hope something may be done soon and if it is not done, congress should know why."

Other members of the bloc have concurred with the views of Brookhart and Nye, and their strength is sufficient under the liberal senate rules to force a perfunctory investigation of the board even if it does not prevent confirmation of some of the nominees.

The situation was entirely unexpected after the widespread confidence congress after Mr. Hoover's own expressed by farm representatives in nouncement of the board personnel.

MOTHER SAYS BOOZE CAUSED SON TO GIVE HER KNIFE WOUNDS

East St. Louis, Ill., Aug. 29.—(U.P.)—An aged woman, 82 years old, lay in a hospital here today suffering from serious knife wounds inflicted by her son "because of that awful booze," she told police.

But the son, Samuel Patton, 50, insisted his mother attempted suicide.

Attracted by screams, neighbors found Mrs. Lucy Patton in her home here with knife wounds in her throat and chest. Police found her son in the rear of the house, and a bloody knife in another room.

After extensive questioning Mrs. Patton charged her son with the attack.

DORAN ASKS GRAPE GROWERS INDUSTRY TO 'POLICE ITSELF'

San Francisco, Aug. 29.—(U.P.)—Prohibition Commissioner James Doran today served notice on the California grape industry that he wanted it to "police itself" through its own organization. This statement was made by Doran before a meeting here of 200 grape shippers and growers under the auspices of the California Vineyards Association.

CLEVELAND NOW WATCHING ITS GREAT AIR RACES

GRAF ZEPPELIN GONE AND LOS ANGELES PREPARING TO GO
BACK TO LAKEHURST

DIRIGIBLES HAD THEIR DAY, EN-
DURANCE FLIERS NOW CLAIM
CHIEF INTEREST

Municipal Airport, Cleveland, Aug. 29.—(U.P.)—The Graf Zeppelin gone and the Los Angeles preparing to go back to Lakehurst, Cleveland returned today to the regular business of the week—watching the national air races. The dirigibles having had their day, endurance fliers claimed chief interest. Three fliers, one of them a woman, planned to take off in efforts to lower present solo endurance records.

Another endurance attempt had come to grief—that of Capt. Ira Eaker, of Question Mark fame, whose plane was forced down last night when a can of oil crashed through a wing of his plane in a refueling attempt.

Captain Eaker had hoped to fly across the continent six times without stopping. He had accomplished the feat once and started back when disaster overtook him.

The woman who will start an endurance flight today was Mae Halzlip, Tulsa, who participated in the women's derby. She will aim at the record now held by Miss Elmer Smith of New York, which is slightly more than 26 hours.

The two men seeking solo endurance records are Ralph F. Thomas, Cleveland, who will fly a Stinson plane, and Thomas Reid, Downey, Calif., in an Emsco. The men's record is 35 hours, set by Lieut. Herbert Fahy.

Two races, glider contests, parachute jumping and "dead stick" landing competition completed the day's attractions.

ALLEGED MURDERER CAPTURED DURING FUNERAL HOUR

Fairchild, Wis., Aug. 29.—(U.P.)—At the same time that funeral services were being held for Ernest Riggs and his wife, Paul Peterson, accused of murdering the couple, was captured in a corn field near here today.

The prisoner was taken to the county seat at Neillsville, where he was to be arraigned on a first degree murder charge. Authorities said that Peterson apparently had attempted to commit suicide and swallowed some mild poison before he was captured.

Riggs and his wife were shot by Peterson, police said, when the couple attempted to protect Mrs. David Jones whom Peterson accused for his domestic troubles. Peterson's wife fled suit for divorce in Waukegan, Ill., recently.

MOTHER CHARGED WITH SETTING FIRE TO HER BABY

Los Angeles, Aug. 29.—(U.P.)—Although the state indicated it will seek the death penalty for Mrs. Josephine Valente, 19, who tossed a burning match into her baby son's carriage, the young mother was unperturbed at her murder trial today.

The young woman, who confessed to burning the baby because she was angry at her husband and the child "seemed to be in the way," pleaded not guilty by reason of insanity.

Among the state's principal witnesses is Esther Garcia, 10, who saw the mother set fire to the baby carriage.

BLOODHOUNDS USED TO TRACE ASSASSIN

West Plains, Mo., Aug. 29.—(U.P.)—Sheriff's officers and Mountain Grove police officers followed bloodhounds today in an effort to find an ex-convict and one or two companions who fired shotguns from ambush yesterday instantly killing Orville Shipley, 21-year-old farmer. His wife, baby son and brother-in-law were wounded.

Edgar Hurd, a fifth occupant of the car, who escaped injury, declared a former convict with whom Shipley had quarreled Tuesday was one of the men who rushed from behind a roadside bush and fired at the Shipley car.

MRS. R. N. POTTER DIES AT HOSPITAL

Passed Away at 7:30 P. M. Wednesday
After Vailliant Fight Against Disease

Lived on Farm 30 Years; Leaves
Widower, 4 Daughters, 5 Sons,
30 Grandchildren

After a long valiant struggle against disease, Mrs. R. N. Potter, an old and respected citizen of this community passed away Wednesday at 7:30 p. m. at the St. Joseph's hospital at the age of 63 years.

Mrs. Potter had been at the local hospital for the past three weeks but had been ill previously for a considerable period. Throughout her illness she maintained a cheerful outlook on life, seldom complained, and her courage was praised by all who knew her.

For the past 30 years Mrs. Potter had lived on the family's progressive farm in Rural Route No. 1.

She was born in Kitchener, Ontario and married there 44 years ago. For seven years previous to moving to their farm home, Mrs. Potter was a resident of Brainerd.

Surviving besides her widower are four daughters, Mrs. George Lundberg, R. R. No. 1, Mrs. George L. Bourquin, Brainerd, Mrs. Clinton Wheeler, R. R.

No. 1, Mrs. H. T. Baldwin, Dilworth, Minn.; five sons, Norman of The Dalles, Ore., Robert of Tygh Valley, Ore., Joseph, of Hamer, Idaho, Fred, of Philadelphia, Pa., and Sheridan Potter, of Brainerd, and 30 grandchildren. The members of the immediate family were present at the bedside at the time of Mrs. Potter's death.

Johnson-Johnson

On Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the Norwegian-Danish parsonage was solemnized the marriage of Bert Johnson and Alma P. Johnson. Rev. O. L. Bolstad read the service using the Lutheran ring ceremony.

Both parties were born and raised in Crow Wing county. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Johnson of Nokay Lake township. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Johnson, also of Nokay Lake township.

The groom was attended by his brother, Arthur Johnson, and Ruth Johnson, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid. The bride wore a gown of old rose georgette and carried a bouquet of roses and sweet peas. The bridesmaid carried a bouquet of sweet peas.

Following the ceremony a reception was tendered the newlyweds at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Johnson, and a wedding dinner served to 65 guests at 6 o'clock.

After a short wedding trip to the Twin Cities Mr. and Mrs. Johnson will make their home on a farm in Nokay Lake township.

Subdividing the Air

CHICAGO, rightly termed the Windy City, thinks so much of the air above it, that it has started subdividing the atmosphere. It is following the example of New York in utilizing air rights for the construction of large buildings.

Many millions of dollars are represented in the construction of great buildings in Chicago which are perched above the right-of-way of railroad tracks in the downtown district, says the New-ark Star-Eagle.

It is estimated that there are about 200 acres available for air right development in the business center of Chicago. There is a vast stretch of tracks belonging to the Illinois Central running for more than five miles along the lake front in the heart of the most valuable real estate section. Just north of the Chicago river, less than a mile from the center of Chicago's shopping district, is a long stretch of railroad tracks belonging to the Chicago & North-western railroad. Just west of the Chicago river, also less than a mile from the heart of the city, is another long stretch of tracks belonging to various railroads, such as the Pennsylvania, Burlington, Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul and the Union Station company.

Some of the finest hotels, office buildings and apartment buildings in New York are built above what were formerly unsightly railroad yards in the vicinity of Grand Central station. In Cleveland a great $150,000,000 terminal project, involving the development of air rights, is under way.

Many other cities, including Newark, will doubtless find that congestion and lack of room will lead to the construction of great buildings over railroad rights-of-way.

The Bank Bandits

IN spite of all precautions, laws and ordinances, bank bandits continue to ply their calling in Minnesota. The Elk River episode did not act as a deterrent for the Pequot robbery.

Minnesota may have to adopt the Iowa plan of a reward for a bank bandit, dead or alive, with the accent placed on the dead.

Texas offers $4,000 for a bank bandit dead and $2,000 for one alive. The bandits are giving that state a wide berth and one hears of but few bank robberies in that state.

At Pequot today one finds every phase of authority assembled. The authorities of Pequot, Crow Wing county and nearby counties, of the state are tracing down every available clue. Since word of the robbery was received everything possible has been done to track the bandits.

Newspapers and radio gave publicity and every agency is seeking to run down the criminals.

Insurance protects the bank from loss.

Carrying Around Letters

MANY a husband is taking the job of a letter carrier, unconsciously doing work he should not do. We refer to the common practice of husbands who get letters to post or who get their wife's mail and then carry the mail for days without delivering it.

One of these recreant husbands was shown up recently in a queer mixup. He had received the wife's mail, had carried the letter in his pocket several days and the last minute "came to" and informed his wife, reading the contents on the telephone. It was to the effect that outside company would be in town that very day for dinner.

The telephone message gave the wife just three hours time to get the dinner ready and the husband's confession followed.

School Opening

SCHOOL opens next week and as usual, the first days will be the hardest. After several months of vacation, it takes some weeks to again grow accustomed to the routine of school.

All the scholars have picked up a coat of tan, have increased their natural fund of pep and enthusiasm and should be prepared for fine work at their desks and in athletics and other rounds of school activities.

And the teachers, too, have been refreshed and rejuvenated by their vacations. In Brainerd all eyes are centered on the new high school and its entry by the students should take the form of a civic celebration.

Where Smoke Comes From

THE smoke which has hovered over Brainerd and the lakes several nights is said to come from forest fires in Montana and Canada. In the lake country the smoke has had the appearance of heavy fog.

Much of the haze comes from the huge fire that has swept across 75,000 acres in Montana, while some has drifted before northwest winds from Canada, the forestry department says.

It is not unusual for smoke to drift hundreds of miles before steady winds, when there is a huge and constant supply.

RIVERMEN did not enthuse about the race between the Betsy Ann and the Tom Greene from Cincinnati to New Richmond on the Ohio river. These stern-wheelers edged across the finish line 10 feet apart, the Tom Greene winner. "Too much like a horse race," said the old time river captains.

GATHERING of wild rice near Aitkin is well under way with the Indians forecasting that the yield this year will be larger than in many years past. Harvesting is in progress on White Elk lake, Dam and Rice lakes near Kimberly and East lake, near the village of East Lake.

HOUSEWIVES soon will be able to buy fresh meats in dainty packages, just as they now buy butter, carton of eggs or a box of crackers. A new system is being developed permitting fresh meat to be retailed in packages like ham or bacon.

"Trial of Mary Dugan"

Four of the original stage cast of "The Trial of Mary Dugan" are in the all-talking picture version of the famous Bayard Veiller murder drama which will be presented at the Peoples theater in Crosby on Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, as a Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer 100 per cent dialogue feature.

Mr. and Mrs. Ludwig Nesheim Entertain

Mr. and Mrs. Ludwig Nesheim entertained a number of friends and relatives at their home in Long Lake township last evening in compliment to Mrs. Oliver Anderson of Enderlin, N. D. About 50 were gathered for the occasion. The evening was spent socially, followed by a luncheon.

COMMITTEE IS BUSY SOLICITING

Chamber of Commerce Men Active in Brainerd-Pine Beach Hotel Project

SELLING BALANCE OF STOCK

Total Cost of Hotel on Lower Gull Lake is Set at $135,000

Under the direction of S. R. Adair, chairman of finance of the Chamber of Commerce Brainerd-Pine Beach hotel committee, teams of solicitors are busy today getting the balance of stock subscriptions sought. It is expected the total desired will be raised shortly before the week end. If necessary, however, the teams will devote the balance of the week to the work. Lieutenants operating under Mr. Adair include F. H. Gruenhagen, R. E. Wyett and B. L. Lagerquist. They, in turn, are supervising and assisting in the work of the many volunteers and others.

Arthur L. Roberts, of Winona, hotel operator who will conduct the Brainerd-Pine Beach hotel, will be in the city for the week end, conferring with committees.

Chester C. Start, chairman of the building committee, reports that G. Schwartz & Company of Rochester, have their superintendent and six men on the hotel site, checking up surveys and other details. Just as soon as the finance committee is assured of disposing the small amount of stock remaining unsold, the building project will get under way.

The total cost of the hotel is set at $135,000, of which about $128,000 has been arranged for in stock and bonds. The balance to be raised in Brainerd by the sale of stock is $7,000. The hotel is leased on a most satisfactory basis, the building contract is being let in such a manner as to insure favorable consideration of local contractors and material men, and with the subscription of $7,000 in stock, which should be completed this week, actual construction will begin before September 15.

The contract is being let on a guaranteed cost basis, and every contract let and all material purchased is under the direct supervision of the board of directors, who may also reject any and all bids and let it themselves if it appears advantageous. Savings made under the guaranteed cost come back to the corporation.

PLANE TO CARRY MISS MINNESOTA

Margaret Anderson to Leave by Airplane for State Fair Saturday Morning

Miss Margaret Anderson, winner of the title, "Miss Minnesota" will leave the Rosko Airport Saturday morning at 11 o'clock by airplane for the State Fair where she will act as the official hostess of the air.

Word was received today by Miss Anderson that an airplane would arrive here Saturday morning to escort her to the state fair.

While at the fair Miss Anderson will be the guest of Mrs. Edward Shurick of St. Paul. She will welcome girls from 59 leading cities of the United States who will be present at the large airmeet, one of the features of the fair.

WEST SHOWS THREAT TO JONES AT PEBBLE BEECH PLAY

SOME NEW FACES IN FIRST LINE OF DEFENSE

JONES SEEKS HIS FIFTH NATIONAL GOLF CHAMPIONSHIP

ATLANTAN PREPARES FOR A GRUELLING CONTEST, PRACTICES DAILY

By FRANK GETTY
(United Press Sports Editor)

Del Monte, Calif., Aug. 29. — There are some new faces in the first line of defense between Bobby Jones and his fifth national amateur golf championship.

The west has marshalled some able amateur golfers who constitute a real threat to the Atlantan's progress at Pebble Beach next week.

Just how serious this threat to his title has become, no one realizes better than Bobby. The champion is taking no chances, and none of the advance guard at Del Monte applies himself more assiduously to the daily practice rounds than Jones.

That he was able to equal the course record at Pebble Beach on each of his first two rounds and set a new record with a 70 as he did yesterday indicates that Bobby is on his game.

He will need to be, every minute, next week, for the opposition out here in the west will be just about the stiffest a defending amateur titlist has been called upon to overcome.

Those two eighteen hole rounds which must be played by the qualifiers and survivors next Wednesday prob-

Hibbing, Aug. 29.—Responses received to date in answer to invitations sent to golfers of northern Minnesota, Wisconsin, North Dakota and Montana indicate that 125 players, twice as many as in 1928, will compete in the annual tournament of the Northwestern Amateur Golf Association here Aug. 31 and Sept. 1 and 2.

The tournament will be divided into two classes, one for amateurs and one for professionals. The qualifying round in the amateur tourney will be held on Aug. 31, with first round play starting on Sunday. The professional tournament will be conducted on the medal play basis over 36 or 72 holes, depending upon the number of entries.

BABE RUTH HITS HIS 37TH HOMER

Yankee Stadium, New York, Aug. 29.—Babe Ruth hit his thirty-seventh home of the season in the eighth inning of today's game against Washington. The Babe delivered the drive over the right field bleachers. He scored Koenig and Byrd ahead of him and enabled the Yanks to win, 5-4.

In appreciation for the honor of being awarded the tournament for the second successive year, officers of the Mesaba Country Club are making an effort to induce all the former stars of the club, now located in various sections of the country, to return to compete for the title.

Assurance has been given that Ralph Bogan, the only member of the local club to have gained the distinction of being crowned three-time club champion, and George Ward, who finally wrested the title from him, will enter. Ralph Bogan is now manager of the Colonial Bus company in Syracuse, New York, while George Ward is manager of the Zinsmaster bakery at Superior, Wis.

Roscoe Fawcett, who defeated Terrence O'Malley on the 23rd hole with a birdie for the title in 1928, is doubtful whether he will be able to defend his championship this year, according to a recent communication.

Paul Lukens, one of the ranking stars of the Mesaba club, will be one of the most serious contenders for the title this year, according to those who have been noting his progress during the season.

Match play in the amateur tournament, including the final championship match will be played in 18 holes only.

Yesterday's Hero—Jewel Eas, newly appointed manager of the Pittsburgh Pirates, who led his men to two victories over the Chicago Cubs in his first turn at the wheel. The scores were 10 to 3 and 7 to 6. Burleigh Grimes won the first and Ray Kremer the second.

DONIE BUSH RESIGNS FROM PIRATE TEAM

REMAINS SILENT, HOWEVER, REGARDING CAUSE OF HIS RESIGNATION

OFFICIALS OF THE TEAM REFUSE TO SHED ANY LIGHT ON HIS ACTION

Pittsburgh, Pa., Aug. 29. — (U.P.) — Donie Bush, resigned manager of the Pittsburgh Pirates, remained silent today regarding the cause of his resignation, nor would officials of the team shed any light on his action.

"We didn't ask Bush to resign," Sam Dreyfuss, treasurer of the club, declared. "He came into the office just after the team got back from Philadelphia, handed his resignation to father (Barney Dreyfuss, president of the team) and it was accepted."

Bush's statement was no more enlightening. "I merely walked into Mr. Dreyfuss' office and offered my resignation," he said. "It was accepted and that's all there is to it. I have nothing more to say. Anything I could say at this time wouldn't help matters any."

Jewel Eas, Pirate coach for the last seven years, was appointed manager and took command of the team just before yesterday's double-header with Chicago.

TUFFY GRIFFITH TO MEET PETERSON IN BOUT TONIGHT

Chicago, Aug. 29. — (U.P.) — Tuffy Griffith, Sioux City, Ia., contender for the heavyweight title, meets Big Boy Peterson in a ten round bout here tonight. Indications were that the bout would not go the limit as both men can hit hard with either hand. Griffith was favored to win.

The Philadelphia Athletics gained an even break in their two game series at New York by winning the second from the Yankees, 9 to 7. Babe Ruth hit his 30th home run for the Yankees in the first inning but it served only to give them a temporary lead.

The Washington Senators slugged Boston with a 7 to 4 defeat in the only other game of the day. Thomas allowed the losers 12 hits but they were unable to make them effective.

Blue Blood And Red

by ROBERT TERRY SHANNON

WHAT HAS GONE BEFORE.

Eddie Regan has been persuaded to join a gang, of which the "Big Guy" is the leader. Bernice Veressi, gang girl, tells Eddie that he has been chosen to pull off a "big job," and intimates that she is his for the asking after the "job" is finished. Eddie becomes disgusted and escapes. He boards a freight train which takes him to Virginia. Seeing a girl on horseback he realizes that Bernice has passed out of his life forever. He is asked by a negro to come help him as his master has had a stroke, and Eddie follows him to the house, where he is confronted by the girl whom he saw shortly before. Marian Thorndike and Eddie resuscitate the old man, and he thanks them.

Now Go On with the Story

CHAPTER VI.
"I'm from New York myself," he stated slowly. "I thought I'd try my luck some place in the country and I've been rambling along looking for a place to light. Maybe I could get work on a farm. I've been wondering where I could get a place to stay a few days. If you could take me in, I'd like to stay a few days to look around."

Penfield Paradine twined his fingers together. "I don't want any strangers here—don't like them," he said feebly. "A man's home is sacred. I don't wish to appear inhospitable, but that's the truth."

He cleared his throat and his eyes brightened as though some idea drifting across his mind had proved stimulating.

"I'll tell you something, young man, a sort of secret about this house. I am the last living Paradine in the State of Virginia, as far as I know. For years I've been cherishing a hope that maybe another Paradine—a kinsman of some kind or other—would come this way some day. I've kept a room furnished against the possibility. My oldest brother went away after the Civil War but he never wrote back. Most likely he died years ago but I have lived in the hopes he might have left a son somewhere . . . to bear the name and carry on the family blood. It's been damn lonesome for me here, sir."

The old man had spoken slowly, had groped for his words, but when he found them, they had been uttered precisely.

All at once Eddie Regan knew that he would find shelter under the roof-tree of old Penfield Paradine.

Eddie Regan compressed his lips and sought to fathom Penfield Paradine. At one stroke he might provide for himself the best hiding place and, immeasurably more alluring, he might remain in the vicinity of Marian Thorndike.

The hands that lay in Penfield Paradine's lap began suddenly to twitch; his lips moved but no sound came from them.

"I wonder if you could take me in for a boarder for a week or so?" Eddie said, and his youthful personality was infinitely ingratiating.

"You're not well, and I could help this colored man look after you."

Slowly Penfield Paradine nodded, found a fragment in his voice.

"You—you can't come here as a boarder. If you stay it will be as a guest. My eyes are not as clear as they once were—but you remind me, somehow, of some of my folks. I used to know a boy who looked something like you—fifty years ago. Maybe he was a cousin. I don't remember. Sometimes when I wake up from a doze in this chair I think I see the outlines in this doorway of some of my friends, and now—"

"That's good. I'll send him out and let him buy a few things for me," Eddie said, trying to speak easily, his hands in his trouser pockets. "Here"—he produced a banknote—"take this, Tobe. I'll write you down a list of what I need later. Buy some groceries, too. Maybe you ain't prepared for an extra fellow coming into the house."

The old negro stood looking at him with a queer expression in his yellowish eyes.

"I raises some pork an' aigs an' chickens. We got a garden, suh. We make out a right."

But he made no move to take the bill Eddie proffered.

"Tobe and I do very well with what we raise on the place," Paradine said, in a strained voice.

"Well, anyway, Tobe can take the money for the personal things I need," Eddie said, quietly.

It was virtually necessary for him to force the twenty dollar bill in the negro's hands. He smiled and turned to Paradine.

"You have a pretty big place here, sir. I don't know anything about farm work, but if anybody could tip me off I'd take a whirl at it. I've got two strong arms and I might turn out to be a regular farmer."

"I suppose the place could be made to pay if one had the strength and interest to give it proper attention," Paradine said. "There used to be three thousand acres in this plantation. I parted with it in sections after the war. There was no one left to work it. I have now forty acres left—the rest belongs to colored folks and the poor whites. Of course, a living can be made on the place—an industrious man could do very well here."

Suddenly Penfield Paradine stopped talking; he began struggling for his breath. One hand crawled upward toward his heart. The negro's eyes grew glassy with apprehension and he began tugging to lift the stricken man's shoulders. Together they carried Penfield Paradine upstairs to his great four poster bed, from which he never again arose.

The responsibility for the care of the sick man seemed to fall completely upon Eddie, but it was the old negro who did all the necessary tasks. Eddie sat in a dilapidated rocker on a hooked rug by the bedside and worried. Unaccountably, he felt as though some near relative was fatally ill. The thin form on the bed held his attention with fascinated interest. Some imaginative streak in the youth, hitherto dormant, recognized in the worn, patrician countenance the essence of a nature highbred and delicate; a quality of personality that had been totally lacking in any of the gangsters—his old pals back in New York. Every member of the mob had been vicious, but in Penfield Paradine there was a different kind of courage. Eddie couldn't explain the difference; merely that he could feel it.

"We ought to get a doctor here," Eddie muttered.

At his behest, old Tobe manipulated the country telephone down stairs with its unfamiliar system of turning a crank to get central and putting through a call on an old-fashioned party line.

The doctor came and left medicine. There was little he could do. Penfield Paradine was semi-conscious. Eddie paid the physician out of his own pocket.

Brainerd-Pine Beach Hotel

A Message to the People of Brainerd:

The next three days will determine whether or not this important part of Brainerd's resort activities will be built or not. No further delay is possible.

This hotel is to cost $135,000, of which only $30,000 was allotted to Brainerd for subscription. Of the total amount Arthur L. Roberts, the lessor and operator, stands pledged for $20,000 in cash provided Brainerd raises her allotment; Harrison & Start (who have already spent $100,000 on the golf course) to $20,000 in cash and ground; Brainerd (with verbal increases of present subscriptions) has secured subscriptions of approximately $23,000; and the underwriting of $65,000 bonds pledged by Drake-Jones & Co. of Minneapolis.

This leaves $7,000 yet to be raised in Brainerd.

A small amount for a progressive city of 10,000 people, yet apparently not so easily secured. Bemidji subscribed $55,000 for their hotel six or seven years ago---repaid many times over in their summer business. Alexandria is an example of a resort town with modern hotels and a golf course.

What's the answer?

Do we progress or not?

Do we make this effort to enormously increase our summer business, and to put Brainerd on the map as the actual center of resort activities of all the north--or do we lie down and call it good enough?

No civic project has been more widely advertised throughout the state. Nearly every visitor inquires regarding it. For a matter of $7000--5% of the total--are we going to fail in this project? If we do, it will be a matter of satisfaction to certain parts of the state. As a matter of advertising alone putting it over is worth this balance--and if the project is dropped the adverse advertising will cost as much.

The idea has been spread that at the last minute some outsider will step in with whatever is needed rather than see it fail. Let's get rid of this idea. The subscriptions of Mr. Roberts and of Harrison & Start are made in good faith, but most emphatically based on Brainerd's raising her quota. Many local people do not realize the advertising value to a community of a very fine 18-hole golf course. Undoubtedly it is of value to Harrison and Start; certainly it is of great value to us. And without this golf course there would be no possibility of the financing or successful operation of an outstanding resort hotel. Conversely, it is doubtful if such a course can be maintained at its present high standard without patronage from such a hotel.

5% of the Total Yet to be Raised! Do We Have to Be Shamed Into It?

A Tribute to the Chamber of Commerce:

This body has initiated this project, worked on it whole-heartedly and unselfishly, and by so doing have avoided the necessity of employing a high powered and expensive hotel promotion company. As a result there will not be a dollar of "watered" stock. Not a dollar wasted, and not a dollar of graft.

Investment Features:

Based on what investigations have been made of similar hotels we honestly believe there are few stocks offered with more attractive possibilities. We believe that with the hotel as outlined that Mr. Roberts can and will do $60,000 gross business annually. We know that if the hotel corporation receives $15,000 annual rental—which would then be the case—that the bonds can be entirely retired in six or seven years, with the hotel corporation owning a choice $135,000 property clear!

CITY GETS DeMOLAY CONVENTION IN 1930

Braierd Chosen as Convention City at Closing Session at Fairmont Today

350 DELEGATES COMING

John Fisher, Brainerd, Elected Secretary of Minnesota Order of DeMolay

Braierd was chosen the convention city for 1930 at the annual convention of the Minnesota Order of DeMolay which closed today at Fairmont, Minn.

John Fisher, Brainerd, was elected secretary of the state organization and the presidency went to V. Lundin of Mankato. Red Wing and Montevideo extended invitations for the 1931 convention.

The Brainerd delegates at the convention in extending the invitation to the DeMolay to meet here in 1930 presented letters of welcome from Mayor Frank E. Little and the Chamber of Commerce.

The convention will attract more than 300 delegates.

SEARCH STARTED FOR AGED N. E. MAN

Nels Knutsen, 78, Was Last Seen at 6 P. M. Wednesday at E Street and 6th Avenue

WAS WITHOUT COAT

Was Lost a Year Ago for 36 Hours and Found by Search Party Near Mississippi

Assistance was asked the Brainerd police department and citizens by Hans M. Knutsen, 515 10th avenue N. E. this afternoon to locate his father, Nels Knutsen, 78 years old, who disappeared from his home yesterday afternoon and has not been seen since.

According to the description furnished Chief of Police Thomas J. Templeton, Mr. Knutsen when last seen was wearing a white shirt, soft gray hat, dark trousers with stripes and black shoes. He has gray hair and a gray moustache. He had but one dollar in his pocket.

Anyone seeing Mr. Knutsen is requested to notify Chief Templeton immediately.

One year ago Mr. Knutsen became lost from a party of blueberry pickers near Rice Lake. He wandered about the woods for 36 hours before found lying on the shore of the Mississippi river in a critical condition from exposure and hunger.

The missing man was last seen by Mrs. Swan Larson about 6 o'clock last evening at the corner of E street and 6th avenue N. E. He had previously been at Lum Park.

Staub-Ross

Miss Helen Ross and Walter Staub, both of Ironton, were united in marriage this morning at 11:30 o'clock at the Congregational parsonage, Rev. N. P. Olmsted officiating. The couple were attended by Peter Staub and Pearl Jacobs.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Staub will make their home in Ironton.

12 NEW TEACHERS COMING TO CITY

To Replace Those Who Have Accepted Employment Elsewhere; Schools Open Tuesday

ADVANCE REGISTRATION

Five New Teachers for High School; Special Departments May be Added in New High

The Brainerd city schools will open for the new school year on Tuesday, September 3, with a full corps of teachers so far as their temporary quarters permit of a full corps. Registration of new students from out of town in the high school may be made on Saturday, August 31, from 9 to 12 A. M. and from 1 to 3 P. M. and on Monday, September 2, from 9 to 12 A. M. on the second floor of the city hall.

The number of new teachers in the grades is somewhat smaller than in previous years as a number of teachers who did not sign their contracts in the spring reconsidered their decision and have returned. Seven former teachers of the Brainerd school system, who have been teaching elsewhere in recent years, indicated a desire during the summer to return to the Brainerd schools. Superintendent P. Olmsted officiating. The couple were attended by Peter Staub and Pearl Jacobs.

On account of the crowded conditions at the Lincoln school last year, it is suggested that parents residing on Front or Laurel street send their children to the Whittier except in those grades where they are too young to cross the railroad.

The following is a list of the new teachers employed for the current year. Most of the grade vacancies this year were in the sixth, seventh or eighth grade and have been filled with new teachers of ample experience. On the completion of the new high school building, a few more teachers in special departments may be added to the teaching force:

High School
Helen Torgerson, Superior, Wis., commercial.
Helen Farrankop, Northfield, Minn., science.
Richard L. Penrose, Cedar Falls, Ia., history.
Rolf E. Melby, Northfield, Minn., science.
Ella Oerting, White Bear, Minn., English and public speaking.

Grades
Ruth Romanson, Princeton, Minn.
Mrs. Effie Wareing, Pine River, Minn.
Leah Miller, Akeley, Minn.
Emma Justin, Excelsior, Minn.
Ellen V. Nyquist, Brainerd, Minn.
Millie Germaine, Brainerd, Minn.
Nora Hegstad, Brainerd, Minn.
Teachers not returning this year include the following: high school, F.

W. Eiden, Hildegarde Erstad, Osa Hornland, Evelyn Marchall, Mildred E. Sundberg, grades, Edna Anderson, Ida Graetz, Kathleen Mumm, Mary Hughey, Kathryn Mumm, Maybel Larson, Harriet Sager.

Nation's Unfortunates
It is estimated that 400,000 people enter and leave the nation's penitentiaries each year.

CELEBRATE ROAD COMPLETION AT SHADY POINT

WHITE LINE ROAD NO. 15 RUNS
FROM 13TH STREET TO
MAPLE GROVE ROAD

ADDRESSES MADE BY MAYOR
LITTLE, CON O'BRIEN, F. H.
GRUENHAGEN AND OTHERS

A large gathering at Shady Point on South Lake last Saturday celebrated the completion of the White Line No. 15 road, which runs from 13th Street to the Maple Grove road. Work on the road was started about two months ago and was completed about the middle of August.

A chicken dinner was served. Addresses were made by Mayor Frank E. Little of Brainerd, Fred Gruenhagen, Con O'Brien and Simon Fredrickson.

Among those present were Commissioner and Mrs. Frank Lowey, Commissioner and Mrs. J. Holvick, Commissioner and Mrs. Johnstone, Crosby, and Commissioner John Dewing, chairman.

Superstition is Rampant in the South Sea Islands of the Lower Pacific!

The savage prays to the god he fears, the god with the evil eyes. And when the night is dark and the signs are bad, they ask his pardon for the joys they had; praying for mercy and expecting none... worshipping an idol that is deaf and blind.

Superstition is rampant and many interesting angles are cleverly shown in the most interesting picture that was ever filmed of the South Sea Islands. Every part is authentic and was actually filmed in these islands. See "Black Cargo of the South Seas," showing at the Lyceum theatre today and Friday matinee and night.
